

January 4, 2022 | Firm News

Arvid von Taube and Anthony McGuinness Named Shareholders at Rich May, P.C.

By: Rich May

Rich May, P.C., is pleased to announce that Arvid von Taube and Anthony McGuinness have been named Shareholders of the firm.

“We are so pleased to announce that Arvid and Tony have been elected as shareholders,” said Managing Director Emmett Lyne. “Each of them has demonstrated professional excellence, grit, a clear sense of ethics, and a spirit of collegiality that is contagious. We are a better firm for having them; and our future is bright with a next generation of stockholders progressing and demonstrating leadership.”

Tony focuses his practice in the areas of commercial real estate, real estate litigation, and restaurant law. Tony represents clients in the acquisition, development, and sale of commercial real estate including condominiums, residential, retail, hotel, and mixed-use developments. He represents individuals and corporate clients in state and federal litigation including real estate litigation, adverse possession, land use, ZBA appeals, contract disputes, and minority shareholder rights. He also represents clients in the hotel and restaurant industry on business transactions, leasing, acquisitions, private equity funding, start-ups, and liquor licensing.

Arvid von Taube’s practice focuses on mergers, acquisitions and other strategic domestic and international corporate transactions where he represents established and emerging companies, business owners and private equity investors. In addition, he counsels entrepreneurs, start-ups, small to mid-sized companies and family businesses on general corporate law and business matters during all of their lifecycle stages. Arvid also helps clients through the trademark registration and maintenance process nationally with the USPTO and locally with state agencies.

Related Attorneys

Anthony McGuinness

Arvid von Taube