

February 4, 2026 | Firm News

Ashley Berger Presents at MCLE Program on Civil Discovery Best Practices

By: Rich May

Rich May, P.C. attorney Ashley Berger recently participated as a faculty member in a Massachusetts Continuing Legal Education (MCLE) program focused on best practices in civil discovery for both state and federal courts.

This program offers attorneys a comprehensive foundation in civil discovery, along with strategies for tailoring discovery tools and techniques to various cases and practice areas. Ashley joined a panel of seasoned litigators from prominent Boston firms to discuss effective discovery methods, strategic case planning, and addressing common issues encountered in state and federal litigation. Specifically, Ashley shared her insights on written discovery and deposition strategies.

Attorneys from Rich May, P.C. are frequent contributors to MCLE and other professional education programs, demonstrating the firm's ongoing commitment to solving client problems effectively and efficiently and creating value at every opportunity.

