OVERVIEW

Christopher M. Hynes focuses his practice on complex commercial litigation. Chris began his career as a litigation associate at a global law firm in New York representing clients in a variety of complex commercial litigations, antitrust and consumer protection class action suits, white-collar investigations, and international arbitrations. Chris moved back to Boston to work at a white-collar defense boutique firm.

During law school, Chris served as a judicial extern for U.S. Magistrate Judge (now U.S. District Court Judge) Mary M. Rowland of the U.S. District Court, Northern District of Illinois. He also served as a Trial Chambers Intern for the International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia in The Hague.

Chris received a dual-major B.A., cum laude, in Journalism and Legal Studies from the University of Massachusetts, Amherst in June 2009, and a J.D. in 2015 from Northwestern University School of Law, where he was the Executive Editor of the Journal of International Law & Business.
