Commercial Real Estate Webinar Now Available Online

By: Rich May

Rich May attorneys Danielle Justo and David Glod, together with Donald Hause of Thompson Hennessy & Partners, presented a webinar focusing on issues impacting commercial landlords and tenants during the COVID-19 crisis. They discussed topics including economic relief available to businesses under the CARES Act, contractual and common law remedies for those unable to meet their lease obligations during the crisis, insurance considerations, and some ideas for cooperative solutions that landlords and tenants might consider.

The video of the webinar is available here. Some of these matters have also been summarized in a newsletter prepared by Don Hause and his team.
