Land Acquisition

OVERVIEW

We assist with land acquisition and land assembly, advising clients on due diligence matters, negotiations of contracts and business terms, and acquiring the targeted location. We represent developers through the acquisition process, whether it be a cash purchase or a more complex financing or requiring approval and permitting contingencies.
